James Terry.

BY CONSTABLE COLES

Accused Men. Will Have a Hearing This Morning at 9 O'clock Before Alderman Howe--An Analysis of the Oleo Was Made by Albert H. Welles, Professor of Chemistry at the Scranton High School.

According to the statements of James Perry, special agent of the department of agriculture, Scrantonians or residents nearby have, during the past few veeks, consumed unbeknowingly some forty-five hundred pounds, and possibly much more, of the unpopular concoc tion of tallow fat and carrot juice which masquerades for butter under the name of oleomargerine.

The United States law, as newspape readers are doubtless aware, permits the stuff to be manufactured and sold. providing it is properly tagged, but is very much averse to its traveling "in so much so, indeed, that it fixes a penalty for its sale or exposition for sale when it does not bear a prescribed announcement of its being counterfeit.

As a result of Special Agent Terry's liscovery, four Scranton men are liable to feel the weight of this law. This quartette is composed of Frank C. Day, butcher, of 905 Capouse avenue; William Leighton, huckster, of 321 Phelps street, and O. A. and W. A. Beemer, dining room keepers, of Washington

THE WARRANTS SERVED. Warrants were served on all four of hem yesterday by Constable Coles and they are to appear at 9 o'clock this morning at Alderman Howe's office to make answer to Agent Terry's accusa-

Day, it appears, engaged Leighton to import the stuff from Chicago, agreeing to dispose of it and pay a commission from the proceeds to the importer. The commission was not forthcoming and a dispute ensued. In some way, not made public, the dispute and the ircumstances leading up to it found their way up to New Albany, Bradford county, the home of Mr. Terry, one of seven officers whom the dairy bureau f the agricultural department keeps a steep flight. FUNERAL OF SISTER ANTOINETTE.

Befitting Funeral Sermon by Rev. P. J. McManus, of Green Ridge.

The funeral of the late Sister Mary Antoinette, of the Order of the Imma culate Heart, was attended yesterday morning from St. Cecilia's academy, Wyoming avenue, by a large concourse, made up of her relatives, former pupils at St. Cecilia's and St. Paul's, Green Ridge, and priests and sisters of Scranton and vicinity.

At 10 o'clock the remains were conveyed to St. Peter's cathedral, where a olemn high mass of requiem was cele brated by Rev. J. A. O'Reilly, rector of the cathedral; assisted by Rev. P. F. Broderick, of Susquehanna, as deacon; Rev. T. F. Coffey, of Carbondale, sub-deacon, and Rev. J. J. B. Feeley, of the eathedral, master of ceremonies. Other priests in the sanctuary were:

Rev. P. J. McManus, of St. Paul's, Green Ridge; Rev. N. J. McManus, of Providence; Rev. E. J. Melley, of St. John's, South Scranton; Rev. McAndrews and Rev. Edward O'Reilly, of Wilkes-Barre; Rev. James J. O'Maley, of Kingston; Rev. J. J. Curran, of East End, Wilkes-Barre; Rev. P. F. Quinnan and Rev. P. E. Lavelle, of Pittston; Rev. J. J. Coroner, of Forest City; Rev. James Fagan, Great Bend; Rev. M. F. Crane, Avoca; Rev. F. P. McNally, of West Scranton; Rev. W. P. O'Donnell, of the Church of the Holy Cross, Bellevue; Rev. D. J. MacGoldrick, president of St. Thomas college; Rev. J. W. Malone, Rev. John Loughran, S. T. L., and Rev. T. W. Carmody, of the cathedral.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Father McManus, of Green Ridge. was addressed mainly to the sisters of the Immaculate Heart, commending their order for its purposes and accomplishments along the theme of the text; They that are learned shall shine as he brightness of the firmament, and they that instruct many to justice, as stars to all eternity."

In the course of his remarks he made the statement that a sister of a teaching order who should neglect her mental training even though it be for the practice of some plety, would be guilty of a wrong and would have to answer for it like for any other sinful omission. Her first duty, he went so far as to say, was to develop her intellectual powers and the sister who devoted herself to prayer to the exclusion of study was unfaithful to her duty, At the close of the mass the remains were conveyed to Hyde Park Catholic cemetery, where they were interred in the sisters' plot, after the chanting of the benedictus by the priests. The pall bearers were: M. L. Barrett, John L. Colligan, George McCarthy, John J O'Boyle, of Vine street; J. C. McAndrew, John J. Brown, CHURCH LAWN FESTIVAL.

Fire Signal Quickly Empties No. 27

School Building. Just how quickly a crowded public school building can be abandoned in case of fire was sprung upon Superintendent Howell and three school controllers at No. 27 school in the North End yesterday. The controllers were President Jennings and Messrs. Gibbons and O'Malley, of the teachers committee which is making an inspection of the schools.

While the officials were watching a ecitation in one of the class rooms the fire signal was given and in one minute and forty seconds 576 pupils had gathered their hats and wraps and passed through the four exits of the building into the open air. No. 27 is one of the few school buildings equipped with a signal system which may be operated from any one of the twelve school rooms. Nos. 28 and 21 schools were also in-

Committed Suicide by Hanging Himself in a Barn in the Rear of Zeidler's Bakery.

Henry O'Hara, of Washington aveue, committed suicide yesterday afrneon in a barn in Raymond court in the rear of Zeidlers' bakery on Franklin avenue, by suspending himelf from a beam. He used a leather rein, one end of which was firmly knotted to his neck. The only explanation of O'Hara's desperate act is that he was sufferng from temporary dementia. The exact time of O'Hara's act is not known. John LaBarne, the hostler, left the barn at noon, going out to drive a wagon load of coal. o'clock he returned and at 3.45 La Barne went upstairs to the loft to get hay for the horses. The steps are

WILL BANQUET ON SCHEDULE TIME

Committee Appointed to Make All Arrangements for the Annual Event and Report at a Meeting to Be Held Saturday Night -- When the Toasting Part of the Programme Is Reached Some Attention Will Be Paid to the School Board.

If the board of control was gifted with the power of mind reading and was secreted somewhere around the mayor's office last night it would have felt a very perceptible sensation of warmth around the lower extremity of the left ear.

The executive committee of the high school alumni association was in ses sion there. The committee in its wise discretion didn't say much, but from some few remarks unconsciously drop ped there was no mistaking that the committee was exercising to its fullest extreme the indefeasible prerogative to think. spected yesterday. The West Side

Everything had been arranged for the annual meeting and dinner and the committee was resting after its labors. waiting with pardonable pride and pleasant anticipation for the enconiums that the association would shower upon it when it would be seen how perfectly lovely everything had been prepared for the members' entertainment, when along comes the board of control and in face of previously given assurances knocks everything endways by denying the use of the high school.

Some of the committee wanted to pass a resolution then and there conveying the association's compliments to the board, but wiser counsel prevailed and it was decided to wait until they all get together at the annual meeting and then, as Chairman Davidson classically put it, "soc et tuem."

Just how the emergency is to be met the committee could not figure out, but at all events it was resolved the affair should occur and on schedule time at that. Mr. Davidson and Mr. Beamish were appointed a committee to secure a hall, arrange for the banquet, dance, business meeting and such and report progress at a meeting to be held Saturday evening in the mayor's office. The old Faraut hause, now used by St Luke's parish for a kindergarten, was suggested as a convenient and well appointed place for the affair and it is quite possible it will be held there.

JUDGE EDWARDS' HIGH DISTINCTION.

To Be Toastmaster of a Big Banquet

in Boston Monday Night. Next Monday, June 21, on the are of Queen Victoria's jubilee, the Anglo-American societies of Boston, will unite in a big banquet in honor of "Her Gracious Majesty" and for the purpose of sending the venerable dame some appropriate sort of congratula tions. St. George societies, St. Andrew societies, St. Patrick societies, St. David societies and just to be neighborly like several St. Nicholas societies have all combined to make it a grand affair. Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, Governo Wolcott, of Massachusetts; Mayor Quincy, of Boston; Governor Black, of New York and many other men of prominence are among the 2.50 who have accepted invitations to be present. And our own Judge Edwards is to be the big gun of the whole celebration. having been selected to act as toastmaster. TWO MINE ACCIDENTS.

One of Them May Result in the Death of George Pollet.

George Follet, an 18-year-old laborer at Johnson's colliery, Priceburg, was possibly fatally injured yesterday morning by a fall of top coal. He sustained a compound fracture of the left leg, a simple fracture of the right, cuts about the head and face and painful bruises all over his body The left leg was so badly mangled that the physicians of the Lackawanna hospital, where he was removed at noon found it necessary to amputate it. He was reported to be in a critical condition last night with the chances of re covery against him.

Thomas Nee, fourteen years of age, doortender at the Greenwood colliery, was received at the Lackawanna hospital yesterday suffering from a badly cut and bruised leg. the consequence of his falling beneath the wheels of a loaded mine car, The doctors say there is little doubt but that the leg will be

Odd Fellows Will Tender a Reception to W. Gaylord Thomas.

Next Tuesday evening the ten lodges of Odd Fellows in this city will unite in giving a reception in honor of W. Gaylord Thomas, of Slocum lodge, who at the Williamsport convention was elected grand master of Pennsylvania. A committee of the various lodges met last night in the Lackawanna lodge rooms, Odd Fellows building, Wyoming avenue, to further the reception arrangements. It was decided o hold the affair in the Lackawanna lodge rooms and invite all the different lodges in the county to participate. There will be a musical and literary entertainment at which S. G. Kerr, chairman of the reception committee, will preside, and following this refreshments will be served in the banquet hall on the fourth floor. Attorney A. A. Vosburg was selected
